Objectives of the course:

The study of history is essential to any student of law as legal principles and legal institutions develop in a particular socio-economic context in history. The primary objective of the paper is to answer the question as to how and why the present has evolved from the past in the manner it has. The way we perceive our past constructs our identity in the present and also has a bearing on our future. Thus, in this course, the students are introduced to the study of history and its methodology. The course also deals with the socio-economic and administrative history from the Indus Valley Civilisation to the reign of the Gupta rulers. This serves as the background for understanding the nature of the society and the economy and the evolution of the concept of justice and judicial institutions. It also provides the context of the evolution of the legal systems, legal literature and judicial administration in Ancient India. The paper thus offers a close study of administrative and social processes, focussing specifically on the interaction of history and law.

Objectives of the course:

One of the main objectives of history is to encourage critical thinking to identify myths, stereotypes and embedded meanings. This course is designed to enable the students to critically analyse the administrative processes and institutions in medieval India. It begins with a survey of the politics, administration and society of the medieval India under the Delhi Sultans. It then continues on to survey similar themes under the Mughals, analysing their evolution, working and comparing them with the earlier times. The study of the legal systems and institutions and the significance of imparting justice by the medieval rulers is best understood in the backdrop of the study of the nature of the state, economy and administrative apparatus.

Unit-I

The Delhi Sultanate: Theories of Kingship; Powers and Functions of the Sultan; Central, Provincial and Local administration; Features of the Judicial System; Iqta System and its features. Position of Women with special reference to their legal status and property rights.

Taxation in the Delhi Sultanate: Beginnings in the form of a tribute; imposition of land tax and other kinds of taxation; changes under successive rulers. Agrarian and market reforms of Alauddin Khalji. Administrative reforms of Feroze Tughluq.

State under Afghan Rule: Polity under the Lodhis; Land Revenue system of Sher Shah Suri.

Unit-III

The Mughal State: New concept of monarchy, Mansabdari and Jagirdari systems; crises on the jagirdari system; the administration of justice, religious policy of Mughal rulers; caste and gender.

INTERNAL ASSESSMENT:

Mid Semester Test: 10 marks Project/Assignment: 05 marks

Presentation: 05 marks

Objective of the course:

As has already been examined in the last semester through an intensive study of the general principles of contract, the essence of all commercial transactions is but regulated by the law of contract. The expansion of commercial activities at a global market environment makes the understanding of the law of contract even more critical. Further, a lucid understanding of the fundamental principles of Special Contracts facilitates not only resolving the disputes arising out of such contracts but also in the drafting of contractual instruments. The law of Special Contracts is marked by the peculiar and mostly predictable legal relationship subsisting between the parties. The frequency of these kinds of transactions in the affairs of men has led to the development of established rules of prescriptions and prohibitions determining the implications and permissible possibilities of these kinds of contractual relations. The fundamental principles of contractual relations continue to apply the special forms of contract unless specifically excluded; as in case of the rule of consideration in case of contract of agency.

Student Outcome:

The primary goal of this course is to acquaint the students with the basics of Special Contracts and enable them to grasp the nuances of the contractual transactions involving these forms of contracts. They will be able to determine the legality of the transactions and also the rights and duties of the parties thereto. They will also be able to purposefully deal with the disputes arising out of such contractual arrangements.

Value addition:

This course is designed keeping in view the student perspectives to understand the applicability of contract law in day to day life. It aims to equip the students with the implication of contract law so as to enable them to deal effectively with the various disputes related to contracts in diverse fields.

Objective of the Paper: To offer insights into the dynamics of emotions, arguments and tensions involved in the dispensing of judgment, through a close reading of selected literary texts.

Unit-I

Problematizing the concept of guilt through Lon L. Fuller's "The Case of the Speluncean Explorers", a hypothetical case used in the study of law.

Unit-II

Studying the nuances of provocation in crime w.r.t. Susan Glaspell's short-story "A Jury of Her Peers".

Unit-III

Analyzing the subtleties involved in the process of executing a trial and pronouncing judgment w.r.t. Premchand's short-story "The Holy Panchayat".

Unit-IV

Questioning the limits of law, authority, state and justice through Albert Camus' The Outsider.

Primary Texts:

Fuller, Lon L. (1949). "The Case of the Speluncean Explorers". Harvard Law Review (The Harvard Law Review Association) 62 (4): 616–645. doi:10.2307/1336025. JSTOR 1336025 Glaspell, Susan. "A Jury of Her Peers". The Best Short Stories of 1917. Ed. Edward J. O'Brien. Boston: Small, Maynard and Company, 1918. Pg. 256-282.

(The complete text is available at Electronic Text Centre: University of Virginia Library. etext.virginia.edu/toc/modeng/public/GlaJury.html)

Premchand. "The Holy Panchayat". Modern Indian Literature: Poems and Short Stories. Eds. Manju Jain, et. al. New Delhi: OUP, 1999. Pg. 53-69.
